

COSMO GM 2024
Dynamics and Numerics/ WG2
hybrid meeting
03 September 2024

WG DYN Dynamics and Numerics (formerly: WG2) / COSMO GM
Tuesday, 03 September 2024

| meeting Chair: Michael Baldauf DWD E0.A.31 |                  |                                                                            |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 14:00 – 14:15                                                                 | Michael Baldauf  | Introduction                                                               |
| 14:15 – 14:45                                                                 | Christoph Müller | Investigation of Higher-Order Tracer Advection in ICON                     |
| 14:45 – 15:15                                                                 | Michael Baldauf  | The Discontinuous Galerkin method - recent results from the BRIDGE project |
| 15:15 – 15:30                                                                 | all              | Discussion                                                                 |
| 15:30 -16:00                                                                  |                  | Coffee break                                                               |
| 16:00-...                                                                     | all              | (Discussion – if needed)                                                   |
|                                                                               |                  |                                                                            |